What's new

Managers now have the option to auto-translate Guide content from a selected source language into any number of target languages with the click of one button.

The auto-translation feature is available in the Guide menu of the Editor, and may require a review of the Userlane language keys, which have to be based on the ISO language codes in order for the translation to work.

How to do this

Start Editor > Access a Guide or a Step -> Open the corresponding three-dots menu, and then click on the Auto-Translate button.

i Please delete the browser cache if you do not see the new functionality in the Editor.
