App Discovery list

Last Modified on 29.09.2026

In order for App Discovery to discover the applications used in your company, the Userlane browser extension observes the usage of leading SaaS application. The tracking operates by identifying the app's domain and looking for a match in the App Discovery list shown below. It will only track visits to the predefined list.

This list may expand in the future to include more SaaS applications, but it will specifically include only work-related tools and not websites that your employees might visit during their leisure time.
